Simont Braun has longstanding experience in advising non-profit organisations on all aspects of their existence, from incorporation to dissolution. We assist (international) trade associations, academic entities, charities, foundations or cultural institutions from their daily questions to their most complex issues.

Our in-depth expertise allows us to act as a single point of service delivery.

Setting up a non-profit legal entity in Belgium

There is a variety of legal forms available for non-profit organisations, each subject to a specific legal framework. Our assistance includes advising on the most appropriate legal non-profit structure as well as setting up and implementing the most suitable structure.

We are aware of what sets non-profit organisations apart, and of the business and political constraints they might face. Our specialist lawyers make sure to offer realistic, pragmatic, and cost-effective solutions.

Corporate law and corporate governance for non-profits

Corporate governance is of utmost importance for non-profit organisations. We regularly advise clients in the non-profit sector on amending their corporate structure and optimising their corporate governance.

We provide hands-on legal advice regarding legal or tax issues that the management or members of a non-profit organisation might face.

We also assist non-profit organisations in mergers and demergers, international transfer of seats and other corporate reorganisations.

Multidisciplinary day-to-day legal assistance for non-profits

In light of the diversity of activities of non-profit organisations and the various modes of financing, a cross-practice approach is crucial. Our multidisciplinary team provides comprehensive and bespoke guidance.
